CURRENT COMMENT.

THE Memorial museum at San Francisco has been presented with a valuable collection of Napoleonic relics.

The agricultural department at Washington is about to issue elaborate information on the subject of "good roads," which congress has directed the department to investigate.

A RECENT dispatch from Jacksonville, Fla., said that the city council had repealed the ordinance permitting "glove contests" with five ounce gloves. This will prevent the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight from being pulled off there, and sporting men say the mill will probably be held at Ocala or Tampa.

RAPHAEL DEMER, said to be an Italian count, appeared at a police station at New York recently clad only in a shirt, and complained that Giuseppe Bodea and Conti Giuseppe, saloon-keepers, induced him to join in a card game and won $80 in cash, his watch, his overcoat, and finally the suit of clothes he wore.

The chief of the bureau of engraving at Washington said, in his recent annual report, that artistic skill in producing bank notes had not advanced with the times. Bank notes prepared twenty-five years were as finely engraved as those of to-day. The designs of the modern notes were, he thought, weak and meaningless.

DR. T. DEWITT TALMAGE, the noted divine, will in the future devote himself entirely to evangelical work. The session of the Brooklyn tabernacle, according to a friend of the preacher, met Dr. Talmage and agreed to request the Brooklyn presbytery to dissolve the pastoral relations now existing. This is a practical acceptance of the resignation.

The signal corps is experimenting with a great military balloon for purposes of war. Gen. Greely says that the operations of a captive balloon, provided with electric and telephonic connections with the commanding general of an army, would offer an unequalled means of observing and reporting instantly the movements of a hostile force.

A LONG anarchist manifesto was issued in London a few days ago. It was printed on colored paper and couched in violent language. It was headed, "Death to Judges—Death to Jurors," and said, among other things: "Comrades, revenge is a duty. You shall see us at work. Death to judges, jurors, policemen in uniform and amateur policemen."

JOHN JACOB ASTOR has decided to build a hotel near the Waldorf on Fifth avenue, New York, which is to be eighteen stories high and the finest hotel in the world. The ball and banquet room will be capable of entertaining 1,000 people. The new hotel will be connected with the Waldorf by hallways. The contract calls for its completion by November 1, 1927.

The game of golf has taken a strong hold in this country, and players are already paying considerable attention to the implements. A Toronto man has invented a cleveland, in the head of which, instead of being solid steel, there is a cavity for a filling of gutta percha, which gives greater momentum to the ball. It is claimed that the new cleveland will do away with the driving club and will be invaluable in a tight corner.

RECALLING the conflicts between soldiers and rioters, the recommendations of Assistant Inspector-General Lee, of the department of Missouri, relative to furnishing short-range ammunition of buckshot to troops engaged in suppressing riots is commanding consideration. He says that under existing conditions the firing into a mob may kill and wound citizens a mile or more away; hence a weapon combining the uses of bullet-firing machine guns with the power of artillery would be advisable.

AN exhibition of hypnotic anesthesia was given at a Chicago doctor's office recently. The case was not serious, but involved treatment of a sensitive nerve center. The patient became in less than a minute like one in a profound sleep, but he had the ability to converse and answer questions. There was not the slightest flinching or tremor while the sensitive operation was being performed, and even the flow of blood stopped at the doctor's command. The witnesses pronounced it a marvelous exhibition.

THROUGH the many ballots in one Long Island City district the returns were badly mixed up. Herman Drier, a candidate for school trustee, received ninety-eight votes for city treasurer; Thomas Boyle, another candidate for school trustee, received fifty-three for city treasurer, and Felix Hughes, a third candidate for school trustee, got eighty votes for city treasurer. F. W. Blackwelder, who was defeated for the city treasurership by Lucien Knapp, secured 138 votes for school trustee and Lucien Knapp, who was elected treasurer, received 102 votes for school trustee.

MR. STEPHENS, United States consul at Annaberg, Germany, says that the results of the trials which the various European army corps have made with the cyclists by no means comes up to the expectations which were formed. The cyclists have been tested in every possible way and although the cycle is capable of further developments and the cyclist of better training, still this will have little influence on the general result. In a few cases the cyclists were of service as postmen, but where the roads were bad they were of no use at all and can never replace the mounted orderly.

MISSISSIPPI MATTERS.

Refused to Indict the State Officers.

JACKSON, Nov. 9.—By a vote of 13 to 7 the Federal grand jury this afternoon refused to indict the Governor, Auditor and Treasurer for issuing the Mississippi State warrants. This action has not been reported to the court, but probably will be tomorrow morning.

This will finally dispose of the question which has excited so much public interest since the arrest some weeks ago of the above officers on an affidavit sworn out by Special Officer Burns charging them with violation of a Federal statute in issuing the warrants. Since then these officers have been under their personal recognizance for appearance before the present term of court.

The jury has been investigating the case off and on ever since Monday. Today it went into court and asked instructions of Judge Niles. He read the statute to the jury, and said if the warrants were in the similitude of United States currency to the extent that an ordinary business man would be deceived into taking them for United States money it should indict, and if it believed the warrants did not to this extent resemble United States currency it should acquit. Numerous experts have been before the jury in relation to the resemblance of the warrants to United States money.

Under act of the legislature of 1894 the Auditor was authorized, with the approval of the Governor, to issue $200,000 of special warrants, in denominations of fives, tens and twenties. The warrants were to be registered by the State Treasurer, were to run until January 1, 1906, and to bear interest at the rate of 3 per cent, but were receivable at any time prior to that date for all dues to the State, without interest. Under this act the warrants were issued.

Chief Hazen of the secret service bureau, when his attention was called to the matter, wrote the Governor demanding the return of the plates and warrants, on the ground that the warrants violated a Federal statute in their similitude to United States currency. The Governor ignored Hazen, but wrote Secretary Carlisle, through Senator J. Z. George, on the subject, taking the position that no law had been violated. Secretary Carlisle turned the matter over to the judicial department, and Special Officer Burns was sent here to work the case up. After several weeks' investigation, his affidavit, on which the State officers were arrested, followed. The officers have never had any doubt of the issue, and the grand jury's action today vindicates their judgment.

Skeletons Unearthed.

New Albany, Nov. 10.—This week while digging a cellar, C. H. Snipes, living seven miles northeast of New Albany, unearthed several well-preserved skeletons. The excavation for the cellar was made in an Indian mound of probably fifteen feet in height and fifty or sixty feet in circumference. The cellar floor was to be upon a level with the ground, and the remains were found from two to six feet above the level. The lower skeleton was the larger and in the best state of preservation. It was probably the last resting place of some Indian chieftain and his harem of wives. The skull of the larger measured over seven inches from the base to the crown, which is some above the ordinary skull. Such finds as this are quite common in this section of country. The ground upon which New Albany is situated being an Indian burying ground in by-gone days, an excavation of a small depth in any part of town will bring to light a large quantity of human bones.

Sykes, and which was refused, saying: "Under the facts stated by your excellency I concur in the accuracy of your position." Gov.
